HIGH SCHOOL ART SHOW TO BE HELD ON UM CAMPUS

The University of Montana Art department will sponsor a juried show of art work by Montana high school students April 5 through 20 on the fourth floor of the UM Mansfield Library. The show will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Over 100 high school students are expected to enter art work in the show, which is "open to any student," according to UM assistant professor Mary Warner of the art department. The students will represent high schools from all over Montana.

The art work will be judged prior to the opening of the show by Warner, associate professor of humanities Jim Todd, and local sculptor James Craig. Judging will be done in the categories of painting, drawing, printmaking, photography, watercolor and mixed media.

Winners in each of the categories, as well as an overall winner, will be named. The students will receive prizes donated by local businesses and the UM associated students' store.
